

Janine Sherr, PTTS Tutor

Janine was born and raised in Toronto, Canada, but has lived for over eighteen years in New York City. She holds a BA in English and Judaic Studies as well as a Bachelor of Education and studied Bible, Jewish History and Yiddish in Bar-Ilan University's one-year program. She was privileged to live in Jerusalem for five years where she taught English to middle and high school students. She has extensive experience teaching students ranging from first grade to college, but enjoys teaching younger children (grades 1-5) the most. As a remedial teacher at Manhattan Day School, she helped students improve their Hebrew reading and Chumash skills.

She strives to instill in her students a love and appreciation for their precious Jewish heritage. Using a variety of approaches, including music, art, and story-telling, she aims to capture the interest of her students and to nurture their talents.

She is available to teach on-line or in-person and looks forward to working with your children.
